Hello, Lída, how are you? I sent you a message on your other IG account, but I just remembered you've been using this one more often, so I decided to send it here too.

A few months ago you allowed me to use your artworks on my YouTube videos and this time I'd like to ask for permission to use it on my new website: Compendium Tolkien.

To simplify it, it's the first ever Brazilian encyclopedia about J.R.R. Tolkien and his works. The website is not-for-profit, free and collaborative, and any image used there will be properly authorized and credited.

If you want to take a look at it, I used one of your artwork in our first ever page, about the Hobbits (the page isn't completed yet, we're still working on some wiki features): <https://compendiumtolkien.com.br/index.php/Hobbits>

I'd love to have your permission, but, if for any reason you wish to not be featured in the website, I'll totally respect it and remove your artwork from there.

Best regards, Ramon from Projeto Tolkien.

Oh, I'm also still working on the actual image page when you click it. For now there's just your name, but I'm working on how to add the artist's websites and proof of authorisation as well.

Hello and thank you for messege. I'm fine (for Now, I'm just painting next illustration from Middle-earth 🥰). And you? Of course you can! 🥰 The second ig account will be mainly mycological and I will use it mainly during the season. 🥰

I'm great! Thank you very much for the authorisation! As I've said the other time, you are one of my favourite Middle-earth artists, so I'm glad I can feature you on our new website! Eager to see your new illustrations!

You are welcome! 🥰👉
